The Invasion of Disease.

When sickness invades the human body, either through mephitic gasses or malarial poisons, and when the organs which ought to arrest these in careering through the blood are overpowered, or relaxed in their functions, there is no medicine of equal potency to DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER.

We speak of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, and there is no other of any account in the cure of disease. All the cures that we have published time and again have been made by it, and anything else sold under the name of blood searchers, upon the merits of these cures, is a fraud and, in cheat. Hundreds of persons are deceived in this way by spurious trash, that has no more affinity for the blood of man than the acrid poisons which it proposes to dispel. A lady whose child we are curing, told us recently that she had sent to as many as half a dozen places to obtain Dr. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, and was met with the answer, "this was just as good." Another lady, who was cured by four bottles of Dr. Keyser's, told us that she had spent seventeen dollars for as many bottles of spurious, which had done no good. No one who will reflect for a moment can help but detect the motives which lead to such imposition. One man told us boldly, that he didn't care what merits were contained in it, he would sell that on which he could make the most money; as if human health and life were to be weighed in the scales with dollars and cents. Reader, when you want Blood Searcher cut this out, and ask for Doctor Keyser's, and take no other!!!

It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Daniel A. Boyd, at 313 Liberty street, of scrofula.

It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Margaret McKeriand of scrofula of nine years duration, after she was covered with sores.

It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Baptist Kissling, Kissling House.

It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Ann Morgan of cancer.

It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Miller Riddle, of twenty-five years standing, when the blotches were as big as a copper cent.

It was Dr Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Harrison Brunyer, of palsy.

It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher that cured Hiram Davis, of Wilkinsburg, of piles of eighteen years standing.

We could fill a newspaper with respectable certificates of its efficacy, if ne ed be.

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher will cure indigestion.

Earthquake—Two Distinct Shocks—Buildings All Rocked in Motion—The People Rush to the Streets.

[From the Leavenworth Bulletin.]

This city experienced an earthquake shock at about fifteen minutes past three o'clock this afternoon, that will long be remembered. We were sitting at our office window, when the first shock of a brick building. A general trembling of the building, and rattling of windows, quite unusual, first attracted our attention. Then like the rumbling of rolling barrels upon the lower floor. Then came a pause of a few seconds, followed by a trembling and vibrating motion of the whole building, in such a forcible manner as to impress every one of the imminent danger of its falling.

Compositors fled their cases, and every one sought the street for safety, and what was strange, all this occurred at the same time in every office, so far as we could see. Blanched faces and trembling hands were the visible sensations, with the exception, among the crowd that found their way to the street, the shock was not so severe as to cause any serious injury. The sensation called to mind that promised by the breaking of a car axle under the building. The foundation of the building in which we write could not have been less than three inches from cast to west, as pendent clocks were stopped, and the plaster shaken from the upper ceiling.

It occurring at the moment we were ready to send the forms to press, forbids the gathering of items. We learn that the dishes were shaken from shelves at a private house on Main street. Messrs. Gantley & Co., crockery dealers on Delaware street, inform us that the entire contents of their stock were upset, and in a confused mass. Pipes and dry goods lying upon counters were tumbled down in many stores. No serious damage has been reported, and we presume none has been realized.

What a Woman can Do.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin publishes the following interesting account of an enterprising lady just married in that city.

A young lady who has been living upon her own resources, was adopted into the family of a gentleman in this city. This gentleman was trustee of a business of millions of dollars annually, and employed numerous clerk and accountants. The young lady alluded to was taken into the counting room, and very soon rose to the position of chief book-keeper and cashier of the house. She filled the situation and performed all with singular fidelity and satisfaction for several years. All the large transactions of the house passed through her hands; the daily cash transactions alone amounting to $50,000 to $50,000.

We have had the satisfaction of examining the set of books, and can truly say that no accountant in Milwaukee can show a better record of neatness and accuracy. Bankers have also examined the work of this young lady, and pronounce it well nigh faultless. The young lady has balanced her books, passed her accounts, and left her situation in charge of the personal and household affairs of a young business man in a neighboring city

Death of a Murderess.

The Wheeling Intelligencer says: Mrs. Minnie Nugent, who murdered her little girl at the Union Hotel several months ago, and has since been lying in jail here, awaiting trial, died about three o'clock Saturday morning. An inquest was held by Coroner Johnson, and a verdict rendered by the jury that "death was caused by consumption of the bowels, hastened by her refusal to take medicine and nourishment." There is no doubt that the woman deliberately committed her suicide by refusal of food and medical aid. It is the opinion of the jailor and, we believe, of the physician, that she was in a condition of partial insanity. The jury in addition to their verdict adopted a resolution setting forth that they were satisfied, from the evidence before them, that the deceased received all possible attention and nursing at the hands of the jailor and his family.

Another Mass Meeting of Whites and Blacks—Speech by the Governor—Conservative Platform Adopted.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBIA, April 29.—Another important meeting of White and Black men was held today. The Governor spoke an hour, urging the colored men to attach themselves to neither the democratic nor republican party, but wait and argue themselves on the platform of the National Union party, that could be occupied in common by both North and South, and all the people North. He counseled moderation and patience, and promised, that, provided the necessary time for charity, the people of the South will see them educated and secured in all the privilges of freemen.

A Committee on resolutions, consisting of thirteen whites and blacks, reported a conservative platform, which was unanimously adopted. It provides for free schools for the education of all children and the revision of the civil and criminal code of the State.

After the resolutions were adopted, Rev. Henry M. Turner, colored, of Washington, made a speech. He cried for no party, and simply desired the rights of his race, and would adhere only to that organization which insured all the privileges of manhood. The whites will find the blacks loyal united south, for he felt satisfied that notwithstanding the education of the past, the Southern gentleman was the best and truest friend of the negro.

Hon. J. H. Gibbs, ex-Mayor, followed, giving assurance of the cordial co-operation of the people in measures looking to the advancement of the colored citizens.

The meeting was also addressed by other citizens and a good feeling prevailed. A mixed Executive Committee of thirteen was appointed for one year.

Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania, is expected here next week.

The Supreme Court to-day decided the Massachusetts Liquor cases. SUPREME COURT.

Alonzo Campbell vs. City Kenosha; judgment of Circuit Court of Wisconsin reversed, with costs, and case remanded.

The schooner Sea Lion and cargo vs. United States; judgment of District Court of Florida affirmed. The question in this cause was whether certain permits issued by special agents of the Treasury Department, approved by General Banks, then commanding the Department of New Orleans, and by Rear Admiral Farragut, in command of the Gulf Squadron, were sufficient to legalize the cotton trade beyond the lines of their departments. The Court held they were not; that the treasury regulations did not contemplate nor authorize such permits; that they were in conflict with the statute in that regard, and could only be issued by the President. The military commander had no authority to warrant or authorize trade beyond his lines. The Secretary of the Treasury could only regulate trade under licenses of such character after they had been granted by the President.

DECISION CONCERNING LOST COUPONS.

A circular from the Treasury Department announces that the Government cannot protect owners of coupon bonds, payable to bearer, lost through their own fault or negligence. Payment will hereafter be made to the party presenting them.

LATE CONDENSED NEWS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

A circular signed by fifty of the leading manufacturers of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Boston, among whom are Peter Cooper, John Jewett & Sons, and others, of New York; W. Sellers & Co., and Ben. Bullock & Sons, and others, of Philadelphia; Cunningham & Limsen, and others, of Pittsburgh; E. B. Ward, of Detroit, with others, has been issued, calling a conference of the manufacturing interests of the country to meet at the Astor House, New York, on the 8th of May next, to deliberate upon the present condition and prospects of the material interests of American Industry, and to decide upon some method of arousing public attention to the subject. The success which has attended the efforts of the free trade league in affecting public sentiment by the wide spread distribution of popular documents through the mails is cited by the call as demonstrating the necessity of adopting some means equally efficient to counteract the evil it is alleged to be working. This is the first note of the coming great struggle for yet higher duties.

There has been a very strong impression prevailing in Washington for the past few days that General Rousseau, who is awaiting orders, would be sent to New Orleans to supercede General Sheridan.

The following is General Sheridan's order relieving one of the aids of the Chief of Police of New Orleans, for improper interference with registration: John W. Boyle, Aid to the Chief of Police: Having on the fifteenth instant intimidated freedmen, by making false representations to them, thereby obstructing the law by causing them to leave the vicinity of the registry office in the First District of this city, is hereby discharged from the police force of the city of New Orleans from twelve o'clock to-day.

Governor Hahn's effort to induce General Grant to authorize General Sheridan to set aside the recent election of the Mississippi Railroad Directors, has not been successful. General Grant declines to interfere, and refers the applicant to the President. So Beauregard and his associates still hold control of the road.

Omaha dispatches say that the track laying on the Union Pacific Railroad, re-commenced on Monday, and will be prosecuted vigorously. Ties are at the end of the road for one hundred miles. Forty miles of iron are now in Omaha. The grading will be done at the rate of two miles per day. The Quartermaster at Omaha notified the Superintendent of the road that he would want transportation for 30,000,000 pounds of Government stores the coming season.

General Wessels, at Fort Kearney, thinks the Crow Indians can be kept quiet by the presence of a larger force of troops than is now at that post. A considerable number of Sioux are encamped on Powder river, east of Fort Reno. The Cheyenne village where the troops camped for several days, was burned on the 26th inst., involving the loss of about one hundred thousand dollars. General Custar was still pursuing the Cheyennes, who had fled northward.

The Wescott House, at Lacrosse, Wisconsin, was consumed by fire on Sunday morning. Loss $20,000; insured for $10,000.

Charles Leis, the man who shot George Kiser in the court room, in Philadelphia, in January last, was arraigned for murder yesterday. Leis charged Kiser with seducing his daughter.

Windemore, the man charged with murdering Mrs. Magilton, in Philadelphia, on Thursday of last week, still protests his innocence, and his friends say that he is subject to temporary fits of insanity, hereditary in his family.

Gen. John Kenley is the radical candidate for City Judge of Baltimore. The ex-rebels have nominated T. Parvin Scott, and the conservatives Reverdy Johnston, Jr. The election takes place to-morrow.

Arbeiter Hail, owned by the German workingmen, on Walnut street, Cincinnati, was partially destroyed by fire on Monday morning, the work of an incendiary. Loss about $15,000; insurance, $5,000.

The President is announced to leave May 12th for Raleigh, North Carolina.

The National Union Convention at Santa Fe, New Mexico, April 1st, unanimously nominated Joseph E. Francisco as their chosen delegate to Congress.

The case of Patrick Hoy, adm inistrator vs. Thomas, in error to Supreme Court of Missouri, was dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

The trial of Samuel H. Wentz and Joseph Rogers, for embezzlement of the funds of the National Mechanics bank, of Baltimore commenced Tuesday. The former plead guilty.

The citizens of Halifax gave resident negroes a complimentary dinner last week, and the citizens of Danville subscribed heavily towards purchasing a chapel for their colored neighbors.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

FOURTH PAGE.—The fullest and most reliable Money, Oil and Produce Market Reports given by any paper in the city, will be found on our Fourth Page.

Anniversary of Young Men's Bible Society of Pittsburgh.

The forty-ninth anniversary of the Young Men's Bible Society took place at the First Baptist Church, Rev. J. S. Dickerson pastor last evening, Prof. Griggs presiding; Mr. R. Miller Secretary.

Exercises opened with reading a portion of scripture by Rev. S. F. Scovel, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, followed with prayer by Rev. W. R. Watkins, late of this city, but now of Washington, Pa.

Mr. David Robinson, Corresponding Secretary, read the following report:

At the last annual meeting a resolution was passed changing the Anniversary from January to April, to correspond more nearly with the opening and closing year of the State Society. The present report, therefore, covers the operations of this Society for the period of fifteen months. Your Society would like very much to present to the Society at large, and through them to the Christian public, many of the incidents brought to the notice of the Board of Managers, in connection with the work done by the committees and agents, but time and space will not permit.

During the months of August, September, and a portion of October, Rev. George K. Scott was sent into the country with instructions to make a thorough canvass of the outlying villages in particular, and report thereon. One of his reports contains the following statement: He have visited this month one hundred and sixty-four families in the townships of Moon and Robinson, of whom twenty-four could not read a Bible, and that one by accident. This part of the country appears more thoroughly evangelized than any I have visited." Other items of interest were gathered by him, but in October, at his request, he was relieved from the work, since when we have had no agent in the county.

Rev. W. Long has been in the employ of the Board since the 1st of January last, as exploring and distributing agent. During these four months, to the present time, he has visited 1,226 families, of whom he found 321 destitute of the Word of Life. He supplied 187 of these free of cost. Of the remainder some could not read English or German, while a large number refused to be supplied. It will, doubtless, surprise the Christian public to hear of such destitution under the shadow of our churches, and beside our doors. We may state in explanation, that our agent has sought out the most crowded alleys and courts, entering into tenement houses where there was a family to nearly every room, and where, it is hoped the seeds of destruction may be sown in any that will be found anywhere.

The influx of foreign-born population has been unprecedented, and in this latter class is the dearth most sadly prominent. A majority of these are Roman Catholics, and cannot be expected to possess the protestant version; but, when our Agent uses the word "destitute," he means without a copy of the Scriptures. March 4th, Rev. W. Long's time, by special request of the Board, has been spent in Bible reading and conversation with the sailors. It was expected that protestants and Catholics would gather to listen to him. With round curiosity a copy of the Douay Scriptures could be brought to him, while in reading aloud from the Protestant version they would note with interest the points of resemblance or difference. Many of these sailors, called by such "readings" in London, Liverpool, and elsewhere, seemed to warrant like experiments in this sailor city. Our foreign population is so rapidly accumulating. The many incidents of which Mr. Long has given on the Board both verbal and written, would seem long enough to encouraged us to prosecute the work at greater expense than was at first designed. The Union Bibles which the Board have also been, we trust, wisely bestowed. The results we humbly commit to Him who is able to make the feeblest instrument effectual. The expenditure upon the home field will prevent us from sending so large an amount to the foreign field as we ask for in report, and another need organs or instruments of a first class. It was resolved, Sacred Harp, by Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ is destined to more general use than any other instrument.

The Street Committee also reported in relation to the action of Councils in regard to granting privilege to the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Spring Garden Railway to lay a T rail track on Diamond street. After considerable debate action on the matter was postponed till the next regular meeting.

The report of the Water Committee was read and ordered to be printed in the Gazette and Dispatch, and with the annual pamphlet report of Committees.

The ordinance for the grading and paving of Poplar alley was read twice and laid over under the rule.

Mr. Shipton presented the report of the Committee on Gas lighting, covering recommendations. On motion of Mr. McAuley (Mr. McMillen in the chair) the report was accepted and recommendations adopted.

Mr. Dickson offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Gas Company be authorized to lay, at the expense of the city, gas mains on Smithfield street, from Fifth avenue to Webster to Grant. Read three times and passed.

Mr. Phillips offered an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to issue a deed for the sale to James McGregor of the Good Intent Engine house, on Webster street, for $5,500. Read three times and passed.

Mr. Coursin presented a petition from the Managers of the Soldier's Monumental Association, asking that the firemen be allowed the privilege of competing for the prize hose carriage at the forthcoming fair.

Mr. Hare stated that it was unnecessary to grant the privilege asked for, as not one company in the city desired to enter into competition for the carriage. The firemen did not intend hereafter to be made cat's-paws.

Mr. O'Neill did not consider that the gentleman spoke for the firemen, nor did he believe that he fully appreciated their patriotism. Every company in the city would enter into the competition if the permission asked for was granted.

Mr. McQuewan stated that he was opposed to re-opening the door, giving firemen permission to collect money from each business men. While favorable to the object of the fair, and willing to contribute towards it, he did not wish to see the firemen engaged in begging money to pay fire prices for the hose carriage.

After some further discussion a motion to suspend the rules was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Barnhill, Coursin, Hemphill, House, Jones, McGowan, O'Neill, Robb, Selbert, Sloan, Varner, Weis—12.

Nays—Beck, Boggs, Brush, Ford, Hare, Mackinney, McQewan, Redman, Reed, Roenick, Roberts, Tomlinson, Weldon, Steel—14.

Mr. Morrow presented the petition of John Flinn and six others, residents of Locust street, Eighth ward, for a water main on Locust street. Read and referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Shipton presented a communication from the City Solicitor, relative to the codification of the laws and ordinances. He stated that the digest was now ready for the printers, but he advised that it be deferred till after the forthcoming election on consolidation, as material modification would perhaps be then rendered necessary.

Mr. Phillips moved that the communication be received, and that further action on the publication be delayed till after the October election. Adopted.

A communication was read from the City Solicitor in regard to the killing of a valuable horse by falling on the ice in Diamond alley, recommending the passage of a resolution authorizing the City Controller to certify a warrant in favor of A. M. Brown, for $200 in full payment of claim of Hirata Meyers for life of said horse.

The communication was accepted and the resolution was read three times and passed.

Mr. McCarthy, from the Committee on Ordinances, presented a communication from City Solicitor Slagle, on the subject of the ordinance in reference to gift lotteries, giving it as his opinion, that it was not unlawful nor within the jurisdiction of city Councils. The Solicitor had also examined the petition in reference to the removal of dead animals. The Board of Health had authority to make such contract as contemplated by the petitioners for the removal of dead animals. He did not think it advisable for Councils to interfere in the matter.

The communication was read and referred to the Ordinance Committee.

A communication was received from the City Solicitor in reference to the unfinished business of Councils, Smithfield street. Read and referred to the Street Committee.

The Street Committee reported an impracticable petition asking for an ordinance for the opening and grading of Hill street in the Eighth ward.

The report of the Street Committee was accompanied by the following ordinances:

For the grading and paving of Bedford street, Diamond to Pastures alley; also, of Boyd street; of Townsend street; paving of Crawford street; grading and paving of Liberty street; also, for the construction of a sewer on Strawberry alley, from the west-ern side of Grant street to Liberty street; also, for the construction of a public sewer on Fifth street, from Wood to Grant street; also, for the construction of a sewer on St. Patrick's alley from Van Braam to Eighteenth street, in Eighth ward. Reports also, an ordinance for the grading and paving of Spring alley between Morris and Bailey streets, also, an ordinance for the grading and paving of Beatty's alley from Green to Beatwelker streets, in the Seventh ward. (These were read twice and laid over under the rules.)

The Street Committee also reported in relation to the action of Councils in regard to granting privilege to the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Spring Garden Railway to lay a T rail track on Diamond street. After considerable debate action on the matter was postponed till the next regular meeting.

The report of the Water Committee was read and ordered to be printed in the Gazette and Dispatch, and with the annual pamphlet report of Committees.

The ordinance for the grading and paving of Poplar alley was read twice and laid over under the rule.

Mr. Shipton presented the report of the Committee on Gas lighting, covering recommendations. On motion of Mr. McAuley (Mr. McMillen in the chair) the report was accepted and recommendations adopted.

Mr. Dickson offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Gas Company be authorized to lay, at the expense of the city, gas mains on Smithfield street, from Fifth avenue to Webster to Grant. Read three times and passed.

Mr. Phillips offered an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to issue a deed for the sale to James McGregor of the Good Intent Engine house, on Webster street, for $5,500. Read three times and passed.

Mr. Thompson presented a bill from the Niagara Steam Fire Company against the city for $2,500 for repairs to said engine house. Referred to Committee on City Property.

On motion, adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present: Messrs. Barnhill, Beck, Boggs, Brush, Coursin, Fawcett, Ford, Hare, Hays, Kain, Kirkpatrick, Lowrie, Magee, Quewan, McClelland, McGowan, O'Neill, Patchell, Redman, Reed, Roenick, Roberts, Sloan, Stineman, Torbin, Verner, Weldon, Welsh, Steel, President.

The minutes of the preceding regular and special meetings were read and approved.

Mr. Hare presented a petition from the President and Managers of the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway Company, asking the passage of an ordinance granting the Company permission to change the track on St. Clair street, from Liberty to Penn, and to extend the grant-ing the privilege asked for was read. Read three times and finally passed.

Mr. Redman offered an ordinance authorizing the Market Committee to appropriate all increase in rents over present rates for the Fifth ward market house, now contracted for in the Market Houses now contracted for. Adopted.

Mr. Coursin presented a petition from the managers of the Western Insurance Company, relative to excessive assessment on their property. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Coursin presented a petition from the Managers of the Soldier's Monumental Association, asking that the firemen be allowed the privilege of competing for the prize hose carriage at the forthcoming fair.

Mr. Hare stated that it was unnecessary to grant the privilege asked for, as not one company in the city desired to enter into competition for the carriage. The firemen did not intend hereafter to be made cat's-paws.

Mr. O'Neill did not consider that the gentleman spoke for the firemen, nor did he believe that he fully appreciated their patriotism. Every company in the city would enter into the competition if the permission asked for was granted.

Mr. McQuewan stated that he was opposed to re-opening the door, giving firemen permission to collect money from each business men. While favorable to the object of the fair, and willing to contribute towards it, he did not wish to see the firemen engaged in begging money to pay fire prices for the hose carriage.

After some further discussion a motion to suspend the rules was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Barnhill, Coursin, Hemphill, House, Jones, McGowan, O'Neill, Robb, Selbert, Sloan, Varner, Weis—12.

Nays—Beck, Boggs, Brush, Ford, Hare, Mackinney, McQewan, Redman, Reed, Roenick, Roberts, Tomlinson, Weldon, Steel—14.

Mr. Redman presented a petition for the erection of two public gas lamps on Congress street, between Franklin street and Pennsylvania avenue. Referred to Gas Committee.

Mr. Coursin offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee consisting of two from the Select and three from the Common Council be appointed to examine and adopt such measures as they may deem expedient for securing the best sanitary condition of the city, and act in concert and harmony with the Board of Health; and further, that they report their action to Councils at their next meeting.

Adopted, and Messrs. Coursin, McCune and Ford appointed on part of C. C.

The report to be presented from the Finance Committee, embracing a resolution for the payment of Joseph Hastings $1,249.50 for paving Walnut street. Report accepted and resolution adopted.

A petition from Messrs. Lippincott & Bakewell, asking permission to lay six hundred feet of four inch water pipe from Pennsylvania avenue to their factory on Dinwiddie street, was read and referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. O'Neill presented a petition from Messrs. Pollock and Fawcett, asking for the privilege of constructing a sewer from A. Ashley's steam saw mill shop, on Water street, to connect with the main sewer leading from Market street to the Monongahela river. Referred to Water Committee.

An ordinance for the grading and paving of Rush street, from Penn to Butler streets, was read three times and finally passed.

Councils then adjourned.

Accidentally Drowned.

Alexander Lewis, aged twenty-three years, was drowned in the Youghiogheny river, near McKeesport, on Saturday evening, by the sinking of a skiff in which he and a companion had started for hogs from Brown's coal works, where they were employed. His companion, being able to swim, got ashore, while Williams drowned. His body was recovered. Coroner Clawson held an inquest, and a verdict of "accidental death" was rendered.

A "Local" Cruelly Sold.

Somebody on Saturday presented the "local" of a cotemporary with "an admirable photograph" of "Jefferson Davis and his friends." The recipient, in his acknowledgment, stated "the group consists of Jefferson Davis, Jeb. Stewart, Joe. Johnson, Quartermaster Bolton, Gen. Hood, Adj't Gen. Cooper, Gen. Longstreet, Gen. Bragg, young Lee and negro Jerry"—"taken from life at Richmond during the war"—"the likenesses said to be admirable." Ye "local" even recognized the "ghair" of Longstreet, having seen an elegant photograph of the "extinguished" at Camp Douglas, Chicago. Or Davis ye local further says the "picture represents him as being in worse trouble when it was taken than now, when he himself is learning to take pictures."

EUROPEAN WAR.

Stock operaters and speculators generally are trying to create a monetary panic by means of the warlike intelligence received from Europe. They allege that a war between Prussia and France, and particularly if it should involve still other powers, would pretty certainly occasion such a commercial disturbance as to lead to a a financial revulsion here. The trouble with these gentlemen is, they reason against all experience.

If a war shall happen there is little probability it will last as long or be as severe as that recently ended in this country. What was the effect of that struggle upon business interests all over the loyal States? There certainly happened an unprecedented quickening of business of all sorts. Nor was this simply the result of an expansion of the currency by an issue of paper money. There was an actual increase of demand for many articles, and a dimunition of the force employed in productive industry. This increased demand, augumented prices and stimulated production.

Nor was the effect different upon Europe, except so far as concerned the cotton traffic. A short supply of that staple was induced, and in consequence many spinners were thrown out of employment. Otherwise the quickening of business in Europe was marked and decisive.

The short and sharp war between Prussia, Austria and Italy, last year, produced no particular effect in this country. The brevity of its duration prevented. The same remark is applicable to all the recent European wars.

Suppose we go back to the wars of the French Revolution and the First Empire, when the whole continent was embroiled, and for many years. This may be taken as a test of what a general war would do now. The United States had just emerged from its revolutionary struggle, was weak, but enterprising. Its flag was the only neutral one that appeared on the Atlantic, and so we gained a monopoly of the carrying trade, laying the foundation of that commercial success which rates us as only second to Great Britain. It so chanced that New England had nearly all the sailors and ships, and profited most largely. She consequently took her stand, under her Federal leaders, in favor of Free Trade. Virginia and the Carolinas and Georgia had neither seamen nor vessels, and became gangrened at the prosperity of the Yankees. Following Mr. JEFFERSON, they declared for the Protective System. Still the whole country felt the impulse of the great war, Even Non-Intercourse and Embargo, and the war of 1812, which followed, devised to vindicate Sailors' Rights by statesmen representing commonwealths that had neither sailors nor seaports, though they caused the shipping of New England to rot idly at the wharves, did not suffice to undo the benefits derived. The impulse this country obtained was never lost, continuing even to this day.

It stands to reason that a new war involving all Europe, would create an immediate demand for vast supplies from the United States, and instead of precipitating a crisis, might postpone, perhaps indefinitely, that now impending.

THAT there is a broad distinction between skilled and unskilled labor, is generally admitted. Not merely theorists, but all practical business men recognize the difference. Where each begins and ends it is difficult to determine.

As a generalization it has been said that unskilled labor is muscular or physical, and skilled labor that of the intelligence or mind. This at best is but a rough approximation to the absolute facts of the case. In the lowest forms of labor, more or less of intelligence is required. There is skill in using the pick or shovel as well as in using the mariner's compass, or the telescope. On the other hand those sorts of labor which make the largest demands upon the intellectual faculties not unfrequently subject the bodily powers to the hardest strain. While it is true that labor mainly meditative is not unfriendly to health or longevity, it is abundantly attested that the cares of statesmanship and the management of important corporate or private enterprises wears upon the bodily strength of those charged with them full as severely as most laborous physical industries.

While, therefore, no absolute difference exists between skilled and unskilled labor, there is a strongly marked relative difference. Labor is unskilled in proportion as it depends for its peculiar character and value upon physical strength and dexterity. It is skilled in exact ratio as it taxes the mental powers, and those of the highest order. This distinction is the basis of all diversities in wages or profits.

A skilled mechanic or manufacturer who has need of a helper, understands that he ought not to pay that auxiliary as high wages as he demands for himself, and he is certain not to do it. In voting himself to be as valuable as two common laborers he is not conscious of doing injustice; nor does he violate any principle of equity. He gave years of previous time to the acquisition of his art, and regularly puts into its employment a larger amount of brain power than is essential in a mere laborer. He feels his pay ought to be increased proportionately, and so it ought.

Yet many workmen are competent to perform the ordinary duties of a shop or factory; are sufficiently skilled and adroit to turn out the work they undertake rapidly and well; who would prove totally ineffectual out of place, if promoted to the rank of foremen. They are deficient in the administrative abilities requisite to plan for many. Each can keep himself going, but has not breadth and force enough to keep a shop full of men profitably engaged. A consciousness of this deters the great majority of skilled workmen from attempting any employment more remunerative than day labor. Of the men who are competent to serve as foremen, only a small proportion have the still higher abilities requisite to take the general management of the business and conduct it successfully. Organizing and directing abilities are comparatively uncommon, as is demonstrated by the excess of failures over successes in all the higher departments of enterprise. When a man has this superior capacity he knows its value and rates it accordingly. If he has capital, well. If he has not, he can command it.

If the rule is sound that a man shall be paid according to what he can do that is of consequence to be done, it would be more absurd to ask a man who is capable of directing varied and intricate affairs to labor for the wages paid an ordinary journeyman, than it would be to ask a competent journeyman to work for the compensation given a common laborer. This explains why men who manage affairs, and do so well, obtain a much larger recompense than a mere skilled workman. The difference is in the nature of the case, and will doubtless exist as long as human nature shall endure.

LECTURES.

If the common maxim is sound that "it is a good thing for a man to have a high opinion of himself and his vocation," Mr. WENDELL PHILLIPS must be superabundantly blessed. In a lecture which he delivered in this city on the 20th instant, he commenced after this fashion:

"There were only four sources of national education—the Press, the pulpit, politics and agitation. Editors could not afford to offend their patrons; politicians could not afford to imperil parties; the pulpit dared not enter a crusade against a popular sin or iniquity—there was always a tacit partnership between pews and pulpit. It was only the Lyceum that could afford to be independent, and express its honest views."

Mr. PHILLIPS has chosen his method for influencing public opinion. He is adapted to that method, and it to him. But he rests under a delusion which he doubtless finds pleasant, but is none the less a delusion on that account. He fancies he is endowed with intellectual and moral infallibility, so that any body who differs from him must either be a knave or a fool.

Doubtless the Lyceum has its uses, but it has its charlatanism as well. We have been within its precincts a score of times the last year, and have not been impressed with the superior excellence either of the manner or matter to which we were treated. In one instance what we listened to was hardly respectable twaddle; in another the performance would have been accounted a third-rate stump speech in a political canvass; in a third the speaker endeavored to see how near to fog transcendentalism could be spun and yet miss it. In only two or three cases did we find superior energy of thought, or conciseness or elegance of expression.

CONVINCING.

FULTON, Oswego Co., July, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: I have been severely afflicted with paralysis of the stomach, and even given up by several eminent physicians. I have tried several remedies of a tonic and stimulating nature, but without any good result. Some three or four months ago I was induced to try your STOMACH BITTERS. I have used about seven or eight bottles and a decided benefit. My health is greatly improved; and I consider your bitters the only efficacious remedy of their kind in the market. If used as directed, they will always prove a sovereign remedy to those afflicted with dyspepsia or other diseases of a like nature.

Respectfully yours, LYMAN MUDGE.

HASTINGS, Dakota Co., Minn., Aug., 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gentlemen: Have sold your BITTERS ever since they were brought out, and consider them the best smoke the many before the public. Those brought out since the tax has been imposed on spirits are trash. I never recommend them. Respectfully and truly yours,
H. J. MARVIN.

COLON, St. Joseph Co., Mich., July 31, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: I consider your BITTERS a sovereign balm for a thousand ills. Yours truly,
D. C. REYNOLDS, M. D.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called SWETT'S PINE CANADENSIS COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidneys of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnow, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all kidney affections, producing a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEISER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street.

EVERY precaution is taken to prevent the cholera from gaining any foothold during the coming season in the army. All the prominent cities east and west are adopting stringent sanitary precautions in view of the near approach of the pestilence. A Pleasant Excursion—Notes on the Wayside.

CLEVELAND, April 29, 1867.

According to arrangements made by the Y. F. S. C's of your city, we started on an excursion by the steamer Grey Eagle at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday. As the morning opened with rain and snow a large crowd did not make its appearance as we confidently expected, and we were obliged to cast from our moorings with but thirty couple all told. Weis' Band accompanied us, and regaled the party with several popular airs, on the upper decks, until the tables were cleared for the dance. At 2:30 p. m. the party sat down to a table laden with good things, gotten up in the most elegant style. At two p. m. the tables, carpets and chairs in the cabin were put aside to give room for the many who were waiting very anxiously to dance.

All being arranged, sets were made up, and on went the dance until we got within a few miles of Liverpool, where the Bayard hove in sight, and in a moment the merry ones were in a perfect uproar. Ladies were running here and there for hats, bonnets, capes, shawls and innumerable other things of female apparel. Directly the Bayard came along side and the excursionists were, in a short time, transferred to that boat. A few moments elapsed and the Bayard was out of sight. The Gray Eagle continued on her way down the river. At 10½ P. M. we reached Wheeling, where we leave the Grey Eagle and proceed to the McClure House. The trip to Wheeling was quite pleasant, and would have been more so but for a bad weather. Captain Hamilton and his assistants were all attentive during the trip down, and clever as usual. At Wheeling the Mills were in full operation, and trade, I understand, is pretty good. Among the Pittsburghers there I found Gardiner (the shoe man of the firm of Gormley of Mellor's, of your city; the former is situated in the shoe business here, while the latter has the interest of Jesse Mellor at the old stand. In theatrical matters little was doing. McKean Buchanan and party were at Washington Hall last week. A Stereopticean opened on Thursday evening for a few nights at Washington Hall. Kunkel's Minstrels open at the same Hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week. The river trade at this point is good. At 10 A. M. Thursday proceeded to Steubenville. Find the mills in full operation. Several new buildings have been erected lately. The ruins of the Woolen Mills, at the head of Market street, destroyed by fire recently, have not been cleared away as yet, and I understand it is to be sold to parties here. On Tuesday evening a grand party was given at Judge Lewett's, President of the P. C. & C. Railroad. The affair passed off pleasantly.

The Mairs B. B. C. were practicing yesterday on their grounds at the foot of Third street. They are to play several matches during the summer, with neighboring clubs. The Mairs is the only B. B. C. club in the city and is considered the best in Eastern Ohio.

A delegation of Odd Fellows came down to this city yesterday from Weliville and Liverpool. A grand procession was formed and marched through the streets.

The steamer Forest City (formerly connected with the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade) is being refurnished and refitted, preparatory to entering the Steubenville and Wheeling trade. At noon leave for Wellesville; nothing doing there. At five o'clock P. M. leave for Cleveland; arrived there at 9:30 P. M. At Cleveland, at the Academy of Music, Fanny B. Price and D. Hanchett have been playing to fair audiences the past week. They remain this week. During the week Miss Price's new play "Our Mattie," will be placed upon the boards. The Black Crook is to be produced at this Theatre. Paupa, Carl Ross, Brignoli, Behreus and party open for two nights, May 3d and 4th, at Brainard's Hall. The Odd Fellows of the city and vicinity met at head-quarters yesterday at 10 A. M. A procession, numbering from six to eight hundred persons, was formed, and headed by Kinkhal's Germania Band, proceeded through the principal streets and finally halted on Bank street, and entered the Academy of Music, where an address was delivered by Rev. M. P. Gaddis, of Cincinnati, after which a variety of music and singing was given.

Bank street, which has been partially laid with the Nicolson pavement, is being completed by the same contractors. Several streets of the city have the Nicolson pavement. It is considered the best pavement in use. No noise is caused by the passage of vehicles over it.

Vincent is to lecture in Cleveland shortly.

Yours in haste,

Paris Gossip.

Thirty thousand tailors have been starving slowly under small wages in Paris for the last year, and yesterday they celebrated the opening of the Exhibition by a grand strike, and went home to look their wives in the faces and wonder if they should have enough to eat for the next ten days. I have seen dozens of them in little groups to-day, every where on the streets, talking over the matter, and with an anxiety on their faces which forebodes trouble. Whether the masters of the trade will give the additional wages demanded by the strikers, remains now a problem of which the difficult solution no pre-occupies workmen that they forget to cheer the Emperor when he comes by. I write only facts as I see them. It is possible they may develop without any disturbance. Then improvements anticipated shortly, and wages must go up.

CATERING TO VICE.

Let me tell you of an inducement of the Exposition, when will produce results that will make every honest man ashamed of his brother men, who can condescend to such measures. In one of the grand cafe concerts of the Exhibition gardens, the guests are to be waited on by young girls, who are to be obtained from the provinces. They must all be young and pretty, not the faded flowers of Paris—and they are to be tastily dressed in uniform. The effect will be fine in an artistic point of view, but this is not all that is intended. These young girls are to be paid no regular wages for their service; they are to depend for a living on the waiter's fee which one always gives in a Parisian cafe. This will amount to something, no doubt, but it will become a time when this cafe will not be full to repletion every night, or what is more probable, these young girls will be charged exhorbitant prices for the room which they must occupy near their work—their work which will last from noon to midnight. Well, the moment they find they cannot earn enough to live on honestly, and when they have once seen the allurements of Paris gayety, they will supply the market of courtesans, and vice will have a new installment of victims. This is no item culled from Parisian feuilletons: it is the truth, as any candid observer will find. The reality is—no woman can earn enough to live on in Paris as well as she ought to live, at present prices. What do you think of a salary of sixty francs a month for a lady at the counter of an elegant cafe in Paris! That will buy her one-eighth of the toilet that she needs in her position. True, she has her food also, but that is not the only necessity of life. Is it wonderful that she becomes lorette—then mistress—then something worse.—Cor. Latrobe Tribune.

How Elections are Conducted in Italy

The suffrage in Italy is by no means universal. An elector must be, first, an Italian citizen; secondly, not less than twenty-five years old; thirdly, must reside in the commune in which he gives his vote; fourthly, must be free from all criminal condemnations; and fifthly, must pay forty francs of taxes or the same sum of house rent. Artisans, however, are excluded, except the masters of workshops. On the day of the election representatives of government are present at the appointed hour and place. Then the electors begin to arrive, each with a slip of paper received from the municipal authorities, certifying his identity and qualification. As soon as a certain number of electors are present, they proceed to elect among themselves a commission of a president, four members and a secretary; into whose hands the Government officials resign the ballot box and papers and depart. The commission is responsible for the regularity of the election and scrutiny, and declares the result. As soon as the commission is installed the Secretary begins calling over the names of the electors in alphabetical order; as each name is called, the elector, if present, advances, shows the slip of paper received from the municipality, receives in return another slip of paper, on which he writes then and there the name of the person he votes for, folds the paper up, drops it into the urn placed on the table before the committee, and then passes on. When the list of names has been called over, those who have already voted being struck, the same process is begun over again, and so on till the hour of voting is passed. After that the committee closes the doors, examine the voting papers and declare the result. If nobody has obtained one-third of the whole number of votes inscribed, a ballot takes place on that day week between the two who have obtained the largest number of votes. On that day the choice of the electors is no longer free; they must vote for one or the other of these two, and the simple majority of votes decides the election. Of course, if any irregularity occurs Parliament annuls the election, and the same operation has to be gone through again.

STREET CONVEYANCE IN PARIS.—The streets of Paris are alive with people. There is not the dull, heavy, constant roaring of London; there is wanting the heavy traffic of New York, but light vehicles roll along by the thousand. It requires twenty thousand cabs to do the light riding of this people. Riding is so cheap that you cannot afford to walk. Thirty cents will carry you anywhere inside of the city walls in a cab. But cheaper than cabs are the omnibuses—not running helter-skelter, but under a system—all owned by one company, with some six hundred omnibuses and seven thousand horses, carrying eighty million passengers per annum. The east and west lines intersect with those running north and south, so that you can reach almost any section of the great city for six cents.—Correspondence Boston Journal.

The total annual cost of the British Postoffice is now set down at $6,407,885. This is the total annual cost of carrying and distributing the mails, and all the postage over this amount which is received is so much nett profit. The surplus of the postoffice Department last year was two-thirds as much as the annual cost of carrying it on.

—Indiana is making progress as a manufacturing State. At a recent meeting of her manufacturers, held at Indianapolis, it was stated that there were over five hundred industrial establishments in the state, several of them having over $300,000 capital each.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

The Argument List will be continued.

Assault and Battery.—Ellen Doyle appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday and made an information against Annie Robinson, charging him with assault and battery. The prosecutor in this case resides in Church alley, and on Friday night last attended the Catabella ball at City Hall, where the alleged assault is said to have been committed. She avers that defendant came to her and requested the pleasure of dancing with her, which she declined, for reasons best known to herself, and that he thereupon got angry at her, had violent words with her, and finally kicked her shin. The defendant was arrested, waived a hearing, and entered bail for his appearance at Court.

A petition has been gotten up in Huntsville, Alabama, for the removal of the Judge of Probate, and Sheriff of Madison county, and the Mayor of Huntsville, and supplant them with men of radical stripe. It is said that the post commandant, Major O. C. C. Lester, disapproved the object of the petition because he knew nothing to justify the the action asked for, and that Gen. Sprague declined to act, unless charges of official malfeasance or misfeasance were made and sustained by proof.

Advices from Forts Rice and Sully, a month later than the reported Fort Buford massacre, make no mention of any trouble whatever in the upper country. Accounts of that affair are considered canards at Yanktown and other points on the Upper Missouri.

Some villians in St. Louis enticed an Indian into a church and there garroted him, robbing him of $70.00.

FINANCE AND TRADE,

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 29, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 135¾; Eighty-one bonds, 109¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 110¾; Five Twenties, 1864, 109; Five Twenties, 1865, 109¾; Consols, 1865, 107¾; Seven Thirties, 105⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 71¾; Fort Wayne & Chicago, 94½; Erie, 59¾; Michigan Southern, 68; Chicago and North Western, 35¼; Chicago and North Western preferred, 61; Chicago and Rock Island, 89; Western Union Telegraph Co., 29¾; New York Central, 89; Reading, 103½.

James G. Brady & Co., bankers, corner of Fourth and Wood streets, dealers in Government Securities, quote the same in New York to-day as follows:

Gold	135
U. S. Sixes 1881	109½
5-20's 1862	111
" 1864	109½
" 1865	109½
U. S. Ten-Forties	99½
U. S. Consols 1865	107¾
August Seven-thirties	105⅝
June "	105⅝
July "	105⅝
Dec., Compounds, 1864	110
State Loan, 6's	103¼
" 15	102
" 15-25	103

Gold opened at 134¾, advanced to 135¾, declined to 135¼, and closed at 135¾, with a lively demand for cash gold. The under tone of the market is rather in favor of an advance; the heavy sales during the excitement can be covered only at a handsome margin; besides, the very men who manufactured the threatening war rumors will do it again whenever it is to their advantage. Government securities are higher, to-day; Five Twenties of 1862 sold as high as 111, and other bonds, where interest is maturing on May 1st, have likewise advanced ½ per cent. Seven Thirties remain stationary, and will until the government buys the later issues, same as the August bonds. Railroad shares opened weak, but, as the day advanced became stronger, especially Fort Wayne, which advanced from 93¾ to 94½, with a fair prospect of touching par. North Western was 35¼, bid. The market then became unsettled again.

The following statement exhibits the business of the Pittsburgh Clearing House for the week closing on Saturday, April 27th:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
April 22d	$4,436,412 34	$74,216 93
" 23d	871,723 64	62,677 59
" 24th	397,425 31	35,571 31
" 25th	274,485 19	57,386 92
" 26th	265,311 57	48,281 28
" 27th	258,191 74	27,757 48
Totals	$1,785,609 79	$356,276 34

—The process of converting United States Seven Thirties into Five Twenties is still progressing ver satisfactorily at the rate of over a million a day. The original issue of these notes included $930,000,000 in three series, of which about 200 millions have already been purchased on account of the subsequent funding outstanding about 100 millions first series, due August 15, 1867, and 430 millions second and third series, due in June and July, 1868. Under the discretionary power confided to the Secretary of the law, he has made the following arrangement: First—he offers to buy for cash August notes at 105¾; or, secondly, he offers to give to the holders bonds of 1865 in exchange for the notes, adjusting the difference of interest on both in currency. The exchange, if made on the first day of May, would be conducted as follows:

$1,000 bond	$1,000 00
Gold interest from January 1	19 56
	$1,019 56
$1,000 7-30 notes	$1,000 00
Interest from February 15	14 89
	$1,014 89
Difference	4 76

So, by paying $4.76 in currency, $19.56 of earned gold interest will be obtained at par; and in making the exchange a better investment is also obtained. For it is evident that the bonds are the better investment, because the 7-30 are only gold interest in value than 7-10 per cent. currency interest, even with gold at 122. With gold at its present price the bond yields 8¾ per cent. per annum on the investment.

—The Government will pay out as coin interest due on the 1st of May on Five Twenties, $24,000,000, being the amount due on the issue of 1862 and 1864 and the first issue of 1865. The last semi-annual payment was due on the first of November, when the New York office of the Treasury paid out in the course of that month $11,-700,361, and in the succeeding month of December $1,722,486. The other offices, at Washington, Philadelphia, and Boston, paid out nearly $7,500,000. The amount of Twenties of 1862 believed to be in foreign ownership is $200,000,000, which, with some moderate amounts of 1864 and 1865, held in England, will require about $8,500,000 gold interest to be paid in May on coupons remitted from abroad. Nearly the whole of this is collected at New York.

—Judge Betts, of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, has rendered a decision in reference to the vexed question as to the validity of United States Treasury Notes as a legal and sufficient tender in payment where the contract specifies the payment to be in "gold or its equivalent," which is of interest to business men. It appears that on the 16th of December, 1763, the owner of the brig India, then at Halifax, N. S., executed to J. Leathe, a charter party for the brig at the rate of $600 per month, payable "in gold or its equivalent." The voyage, by the mutual consent of the parties, was terminated at New York. The controversy then arose. It was contended by the owner of the vessel that he was entitled, under the terms of the agreement, in which both parties were competent to make, to the monthly compensation in gold coin, or in its appreciated value or equivalent in United States Treasury notes. The defendant, on the other hand, insisted that he was not bound for more than the price agreed upon. That all contracts, payable,
